

to job success. Questions to be asked include:

Who, in school, helped you obtain this job?

What advice did people give you for obtaining a job?

What, if any, were their connections to the organization for which you work?

How many other people in the organization are from your area of study?

How many other people in the organization are from your school or region of the country?

How important is communication in your job?

Do you attend social functions sponsored by the organization? Why or why not?

Who helped you get integrated or socialized into the organization? Was their mentoring useful? Please explain.

How do you get news about what is happening in the organization, other than from formal means, such as newsletters, office memos and so on?